

CLAIMS

We claim:

1. A system for storing medical information and deploy applications using the Internet as shown and described in the above description.

5 2. A method for managing medical information, comprising:

a) collecting patient records and/or demographic data;

b) reducing said data;

c) compressing said data;

d) extracting the features of data in the form of images;

10 e) processing and storing said data;

f) retrieving said data; and

g) displaying and/or reporting said data.